1917 Relay Team.

When the Sophomore relay team goes onto the field this afternoon against the Freshmen, it is with the expectation of coming off winners in the event. The team is well balanced, although the times are not such as to prophesy a record. Experience will be the prime factor in the Sophomore team's strength this afternoon

FIELD DAY CUP.

This afternoon, when the two classes, 1917 and 1918, meet at the new field, the chances of the Freshmen coming through the day as winners are more favorable than they have been for a number of years. The teams are evenly matched in most of the events, but, as a whole, the Freshmen have shown in practice, as far as can be judged, the better mettle.

The football game is expected to be the deciding event of the day. In this the two teams are strong as can be seen by looking over their record against the preparatory school teams that they have played. The Sophomores have not had a defeat this season nor have the Freshmen. Westboro was the only team that succeeded in even getting a tie score, and that was against the Sophomores in the early part of the season. The Freshman team has not been held to a tie and has succeeded in winning handily from such teams as Mechanics Arts and Dorchester. Judging from the fact that the Freshmen have done better scoring against what are considered stronger teams than those the Sophomores have met, it is thought that the Freshmen have the odds slightly in their favor. A fluke may result in upsetting all calculations. The Sophomores, however, have confidence in their team and have been willing to place their money on even ground with the first year men.

The relay teams are sure to provide the exciting event of the after-

CIVIL ENGINEERS MAKE PLANS FOR THE TERM

Joint Meetings With Harvard C. E. Society—Arrangements For Speakers.

All members of the Civil Engineering Society are invited to attend a joint meeting with the C. E. Society of Harvard, to be held tonight in the Pierce Building, at Harvard. The subject will be German and English Sanitation Methods, illustrated by 100 slides. In addition to this meeting, there will be a joint meeting at the same place on Wednesday, November 11th, at which moving pictures, "From the Quarry to the Bag," will show the processes involved in the manufacture of Portland Cement. A third joint meeting, at a date to be announced later, will be held in Huntington Hall, at which Mr. Newell, the head of the United States Reclamation Service, will speak. It is hoped that all members who can, will attend these co-operative meetings.

Trips have been arranged to Fort Andrew, in Boston Harbor, and to the New Tech Site.

Among the speakers for the rest of the term are Col. Sohier, chairman of the Massachusetts Highway Commission, Prof. Whipple, of Harvard, Mr. George W. Andrews, District Attorney, and Mr. Thorndike, of Fay, Spofford and Thorndike. The Society will end the term with a dinner at the Union. All Sophomores in Courses I and XI are eligible, and are urged to join at once, in order to take advantage of the trips and meetings. Names of those who wish to join should be left at the Cage for the Secretary of the Society.

T. C. A. TALK

Dr. George A. Crawford Speaks To Men In Union.

Yesterday noon Dr. George A. Crawford, retired chaplain of the U. S. Navy, spoke in the Union on the subject, "The Value of Manners and Method." He interspersed his remarks with many interesting anecdotes which gave his hearers insight into the problem which the military, naval, or prison chaplain has to face.

Dr. Crawford began by saying that a great many people lie too near one or the other of two extremes as regards their manners. They either do not care what people think of them, and consequently do not even use the common courtesies of life, or they fear adverse opinion so much that they hesitate to express their own opinion.

Another common deficiency, said Dr. Crawford, is lack of method. Men acquire knowledge, or "get an education" and then fall utterly because they do not make a practical use of what they know. These could be overcome by systematically rooting out their weak points.

To be well-mannered, however, a man must be sincere. Counterfeits may endure for a time, but ultimately they are discovered. A sincere, well-mannered, businesslike man, with fearless convictions, is what the masters of industry are looking for; and they will accept no substitutes.

KOMMERS' DINNER ON NINETEENTH

Tech Show Management Planning Attractive Program For Annual Affair.

Following closely on the heels of Field Day comes another event of unusual interest to the student body as a whole, the annual Kommers' Dinner is to be given on Thursday evening, November 19th.

This dinner, given by the management of the Tech Show, is attended by members of every class and course, and is by no means a money-making affair. Its main object is to bring together all the men in the Institute who are interested in the Show. This, of course, gives the new management an opportunity to outline its plans and to get the work of the year started. But, aside from achieving this object, it has acquired such a reputation for offering a good time, that the attendance is always several times the number connected either directly or indirectly with the Show itself. Freshmen will have an opportunity to learn about the various competitions, the ballet, Show orchestra, etc. This is, in fact, the only time during the year that the work of each of the many departments into which the Show is divided is fully explained. Inside information will be given by the General Manager and by the managers of the various departments.

F. H. SMYTHE

Dean Burton, whose speaking is a feature of so many undergraduate dinners during the year, will give the faculty views of the Show.

As usual, there will probably be several attractions from last year's show, among the chief of which is the heroine, F. Hastings Smythe, who is considered almost the equal of Julian Eltinge as a female impersonator, and it is hoped that he will appear in feminine attire.

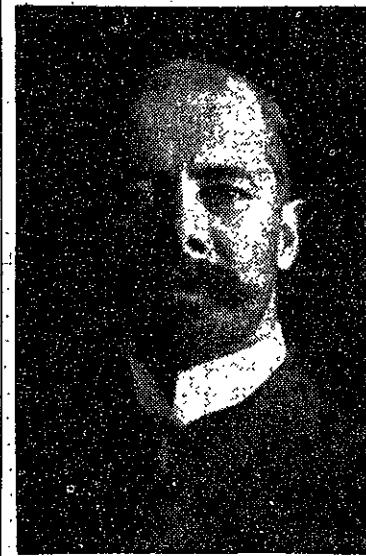

Tickets for the affair may be had either at the cage or from the management. The price is fifty cents, which covers only the cost of the dinner itself.

Everybody with an armband this afternoon.

CHEER LEADERS CHOSEN

Freshmen Nominations for Class Officers Due Saturday.

The following men have been selected as cheer leaders for the class of 1918: Geo. Davis, head cheer leader; Van Da Linde, Luddy and Cottrell, assistants. Four men were chosen due to the uncertainty as to conditions at the field, but if a concentrated cheering section can be obtained only two will be retained, Luddy and Cottrell dropping off. The election committee for the Freshman class is as follows: E. N. Winslow, Chairman, T. F. Hilford and J. W. Damon. Nominations open the day after Field Day and close the following Saturday. Nomination papers, signed by ten members of the class, should be left at the cage, addressed to the 1918 Election Committee.

The offices to be filled are as follows: President, Vice-President, Secretary, Treasurer, Institute Committee (2), M. I. T. A. A. (2), Executive Committee (2).

CROSS COUNTRY MEN EXPECT EASY TIME

Run At Worcester Today Against Holy Cross Should Be Easy Victory.

This afternoon, while the two lower classes are engaged in their annual Field Day contests, the Varsity cross-country team will be running against Holy Cross in a return meet at Holy Cross. Last year five Tech men finished before a single Holy Cross man reached the tape. This year, with Tech having a stronger cross country team than ever, it is expected that

FALL HANDICAP MEET TOMORROW AT 2:30 P. M.

Running Events Well Contested —All Men Are Urged To Enter.

Tomorrow at half past two the Annual Fall Handicap Meet will be run off at the New Field in Cambridge. Entry books have been placed at the Union and also at the Field and since no definite time has been set for the closing of entries, men may enter any time up to the running of the event. An admission fee of twenty-five cents will be charged for the general public.

VARSITY CROSS COUNTRY TEAM

not only will the feat be duplicated but also that practically all of the ten men running will finish before any of the Holy Cross team. Holy Cross has only one strong man back out of last year's team, Higgins, but he has not been doing any running to speak of this year and is more or less out of condition. The remainder of the team is slow according to reports so that it looks as though the run will be a walkaway for the Technology team.

Brown and Captain Cook are slated to be the contestants for the individual honors with the odds favoring Brown. His consistent work this year has resulted in his being a slight favorite over Cook but so slight that a reversal in the order of finish of these two would not be surprising at any time. Benson is the next strongest to Graff, who has been showing consistent work all year, and these two are sure to be closely behind the leaders. Wall, Litchfield and Harrington are the new men on the team this year. Wall ran two years ago but was not at school last fall. The other two are Sophomores who have shown exceedingly good mettle and will build up the Varsity team very much. Nye and Wilkins are both men of former experience and are expected to come through in good style and possibly make the intercollegiate team. Bradley of the Freshman class will run and will be the only representative of this class. His work has stood out among the Freshman cross-country men but although he will run in the meet today rulings forbid the first year men to enter the intercollegiates. He is a strong man, finishing eighth in the trials, and next year is sure to make an addition to the team in the intercollegiates.

The results of the run will be announced at the Field this afternoon if it is possible to obtain them. The men are to leave this morning on the ten o'clock train for Worcester from Trinity place, where a crowd is expected to give them a good send-off.

as several of last year's men are again back and have the flag passing down "cold." Most of the men on the team have had considerable experience in competition and can be relied on to do the right thing at the right time.

Several of the men on the Sophomore team have shown their strength in the meets of last year, several being able to take places. The loss of O'Hara will be keenly felt by the team as he was their fastest man last year. Quilhot, Hulburd, Erb and Sullivan are among the best men on the team and it is expected that they will play the feature part in the race. The team is feeling confident of a victory and expect to easily show the Freshmen their heels.

1918 Relay Team.

The prospects of the Freshmen winning the Relay Race this afternoon appear better than those of any other Freshmen class during the past seven years. Although not in the least overconfident the team has shown remarkable improvement during the last week and feel that they will at least give the Sophomores a hard race. The odds are now two to one on the Freshmen while a few days ago odds of eight to five on the Sophomores were heard. Several men on the team have had some experience running before, Smythe, a quarter-miler from Dorchester, McDonald of the Irish-American A. A., while Justheim, Read, and Mumford have run at Mechanic Arts. Avery has Ribbons will be awarded to the winners of the first four places in each event.

In the 100 yards Loomis, Erb, Day, Sullivan and K. Dean are entered. O'Hara will not be able to run on account of the death of his brother. In both the 100 and 200 yards the larger proportion of entries are from the Freshman class. At the present time there are very few entries in the high and broad jumps and weight events and Coach Kanaly hopes that more men interested in these events will come out and compete.

There will be the 100 and 200 yards dash, the quarter, half, mile and two mile runs, 120 yards high hurdles, 220 yards low hurdles, broad jump, high jump, pole vault, shot put and hammer throw.

The stars in these events are Gething and Gagnon in the quarter mile, Huff and Sewall in the hurdles, Huff being the scratch man and Sewall having a handicap of probably three yards.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1914.

On this occasion of enthusiasm for our individual classes, let us not forget Technology as a whole. Let us remember that, from her point of view, a successful Field Day is one which brings forth nothing, either from spectators or contestants, or at the theater in the evening, which would tend to reflect on the honor of any of her sons.

The arrangements for spectators at the new field are undoubtedly inadequate. Although the original plans for seating capacity covered accommodations for twenty-five hundred to three thousand people, and incidentally better arrangements for dressing rooms and lockers, the amount of money allowed was insufficient. This made it a case of having either a first class field and track and semi-temporary accommodations, or else "half and half." This latter alternative was deemed unwise economy by the corporation as well as the athletic management. As a result, we have a track and accessories probably equal to any in the world, but in regard to accommodations we will have to get along as best we can until some interested alumnus, class or friend provides the means to erect larger and more permanent facilities.

The flags which will decorate the theater tonight are loaned for the occasion; if they are damaged they will be replaced at class expense. Any broken seats must also be paid for, by agreement with the theater. If common decency does not suffice to prevent wanton destruction of property, we hope the self-interest and class-interest thus involved will do so.

TECH NIGHT

Manager of Shubert Makes Requests of Students.

Mr. Smith, the Manager of the Shubert Theatre, in an interview with a member of The Tech last night, asked that the men who attended the theatre this evening keep several facts in mind. He said that this year the whole house was not bought out by Technology men but that fully twenty-five percent of the audience would be people who are strangers to Technology. The members of the cast, moreover, are mostly girls and so a rough house will be out of place and will be immediately stopped. He insisted that no confetti or streamers be thrown on the runways going out into the audience or on the stage. In case confetti is thrown on the runways the girls will not be allowed to go out on them and that part of the act will have to be cut out. Mr. Smith was assured that proper conduct would be observed.

ROUTE TO NEW FIELD

The new field can be reached from Rogers Building by going west on Newton Street as far as Massachusetts Avenue. The direction is then to the right out Massachusetts Avenue and across Harvard bridge past the Institute buildings and down the first street on the right, Vassar street. This street is just this side of the railroad track and it leads directly to the field.

Don't forget to be around at Rogers at one-thirty.

The parade starts at 1.30 p. m. at Rogers.

As very serious accidents have resulted from the throwing of streamers onto the stage, every thoughtful Tech man should do his best to confine this phase of the celebration to the balcony and orchestra.

As hosts to the colleges competing in the New England Intercollegiates a week from tomorrow, it seems that we should provide some simple entertainment on the preceding evening to uphold Technology's tradition of courtesy and hospitality. The Track Management hopes to arrange something of this nature, but the Chess Club and the Chauncy Hall Club have already reserved rooms in the Union. Considering the importance of fulfilling our duty as hosts, we hope the two latter organizations will waive their precedence and select other evenings.

HOW THE FIELD DAY CUSTOM ORIGINATED*Annual Event Substituted Over Decade Ago For Bloody Cane-Rush.

The final cane rush between the Freshman and Sophomore classes occurred on November 15, 1900. The rush was much the same as in former years, the Freshmen being given possession of the cane, while the second year men attacked their formation with flying wedges. The scrimmage lasted fifteen minutes and, as usual, the pistol shot to cease the struggle was a signal for the fiercest fighting. When the men were cleared away it was found that the 1904 men had won the rush with nineteen hands while the Freshmen had only eleven. At the bottom of the pile of men was the unconscious body of Hugh Chadwick Moore, '04.

In a class meeting a few days previous to the rush, Moore spoke briefly to his fellows, advising them not to stop the struggle when the pistol was fired as signal to end the rush. Following his own advice, he wrapped himself bodily around his end of the cane at the moment the shot was fired. At this point the struggle became more enthusiastic. New men joined the struggling lower-class men. In some way Moore was thrown down beneath the pile but still retained his hold on the cane. Those nearest perceived a body under them and upon asking if he was all right they received a reply in the affirmative. The asking if he was all right they received a reply in the affirmative. When the upperclassmen succeeded in pulling off the uppermost men, someone noticed the prostrate body of Moore. He was carried out unconscious and all efforts to revive him were unsuccessful.

Another Freshman, Harold W. Sherrill, was carried from the field suffering from a hemorrhage of both eyes and enlargement of the heart. The accidents were due to the strain received in the rush, caused by prolonged holding of the breath and the external pressure of the crowd. He was standing beside Moore on the cane. When the crowd in the center of the rush fell, he tumbled on his side, and thus avoided the fatal results that might have occurred had he fallen on his back as Moore did. He was confined to a dark room for nearly a fortnight and never entirely recovered.

On the third of December the Institute Committee appointed a committee to confer with the Advisory Council on Athletics on the question of substituting an athletic meet in place of the cane rush. The following year the first Field Day was held and the Class of 1905, then Freshmen, won the event.

FACULTY NOTICE

Fourth Year students have been notified in regard to their deficiencies below the fourth year. Any one who expects to be a candidate for graduation in June, 1915, who has not received such a notice should consult me at the earliest possible opportunity.

NEW FIELD BEST IN THE COUNTRY*Straightaways Are Twenty-Eight Feet Wide, Accommodating Ten Runners.

The opening of the New Field today marks the first step in the student's occupation of the new Institute grounds.

Several features of the track are expected to make it one of the finest in the intercollegiate list. The 220-yd. straightaway has been so laid out that in the spring when most of the college meets and the intercollegiates are held the sun will not bother the runners as was found to be the case last year at the Stadium. This straightaway has been made 250 yds. long to allow for stopping, and 28 ft. wide. This will allow nine or ten men in the dashes, thus doing away with running so many elimination heats. Six hurdles can be comfortably placed across the track where in the Stadium only five can be accommodated. The track itself is 20 ft. wide in its narrowest places, on the turns, and 28 ft. on both straightaways, making it the widest in the United States. The Harvard Stadium track, in comparison, is approximately 20 ft. wide at its widest parts.

The quarter mile has been planned so that it can be made with only one turn and with the finish in front of the grandstand. The half will be run with three turns and with the finish also in front of the stand. It is expected that by eliminating the turns faster time can be made in these events. The mile, two-mile and five-mile will be run as usual around the regular quarter-mile track with start and finish before the grandstand. The broad and high jump have been placed inside the track opposite the stand, and the feature of these is that there are pits at each end of the runways. This allows men to run either way to jump, avoiding obligation to jump against the wind.

ATHLETIC ADVISORS*Council Considers Hockey Budget And Other Matters.

At a meeting of the Institute Advisory Council on Athletics, held at the Technology Club last Tuesday, November 3rd, the following were present: Members: Dr. Rockwell, Gram, Huff, Webster, Rowe; Guests: DuPont and MacRae. The meeting was called to order at eight o'clock by the chairman, Dr. Rockwell. The budget of the Hockey team for the coming season was first presented by MacRae, and the details were discussed, after which it was referred to the Institute committee for final action. The final arrangements for Field Day were considered and informal reports were heard from Messrs. DuPont and Rowe. The details of the proposed reception to the visiting Cross Country Teams for the New England meet were discussed. The advisability of entering into two-year reciprocal contracts for dual meets was debated, and the lists of possible competing colleges canvassed. The meeting adjourned at 10:15 P. M.

SENIOR PARADE IN HONOR OF NEW FIELD

Line Forms on Rogers Steps at 1.30—All Classes in the Parade.

Although the Senior Class is sponsor for the parade which is to start from Rogers Steps at one o'clock on Field Day, the entire student body has been invited to participate and it is expected that all who are going will do so. None of the other classes have made any definite arrangements for a parade of their own, so that between 300 and 400 men will probably be in line.

SHOW TICKETS

Envelopes cannot be exchanged at the Institute for "Passing Show" tickets after 12 m. today. All these who have not had their envelopes redeemed must, therefore, meet the committee in charge in Rogers Corridor between 11.30 and 12 m. today. Tickets not exchanged at this time can only be exchanged at the Shubert Theater office.

A LIVE SHOW

The show for the Tech Night this year is one of the liveliest and girliest that Tech men have attended in a body. The dancing is excellent, the singing good, the girls are pretty and shapely, and they don't care who knows it.

It is a mirthful melange of lingerie and laughter, that is where there is lingerie.

The scenic effects, referring to the stage settings, are excellent examples of what can be done by a skilled artist.

Great form will be shown at the Shubert tonight.

during the first interval but the superior stamina of the older men ought to prove to their advantage.

The last serious practice for the team was held Wednesday. Several endurance pulls were taken and the men given their positions on the rope. An election for Counter was held. After two ballots A. R. Brooks was elected to this important position. He tried for the team last year but failed to make it, so he came out for counter this year with a vengeance. He is quick and uses his arms and voice well. H. L. Wood, the captain, is a tower of strength in the middle of the line, and with Gokey, the strongest man on the team, make a formidable pair. Stevens who has been training to put on weight since school opened, will be at anchor where he pulled on last year's team.

1918 Tug-of-War.

At the crack of the gun today, the Freshman Tug-of-War Team will be ready to pull as it has never done before, in an attempt to take the Sophomores by surprise, according to Coach H. L. Bickford, '15, who has had charge of the squad. He praised the enthusiasm of the first year men as shown in their constant practice during the last two weeks and promised that their opponents are due for a big surprise this afternoon when the two teams meet.

1917 Tug-of-War.

The 1917 team will include fifteen of the men who helped last year's team win in two straight pulls. The team this year is about seven pounds heavier than last year and in addition has been practicing faithfully since the second week of school. It seems that the advantage is with the Sophomores. The team however realizes that it will have no easy time since the Freshmen have been improving greatly during the last week. The pulling will be very even.

The strength of the rival teams, as shown by the recent tests at the Gym, is pretty evenly matched. The total weight of the Freshman team aggregates 4250 pounds; an average of 170 pounds per man. The Sophomores average up to about the same figure or a trifle more.

Yesterday afternoon, the 1918 team met for the last time before the final test. The members were given their jerseys and then listened to final directions for Field Day from their coach. The team undertook no practice.

A special enclosure, directly in front of the grandstand, will be roped off for the exclusive occupancy of the seniors, and all who wear the white tag bearing the numeral "15" in red will be admitted to it. These tags, which may be obtained from men in every course, are being sold to the seniors for ten cents each, in order to help pay the expense of the band, which, on account of its size and quality, is rather expensive.

A large white banner bearing the class numerals is to be carried by the seniors and the other classes will likewise have patriotic standards. In virtue of the fact that the state legislature has recently passed a law prohibiting the use of red flags in parades, and in order to avoid unseemly complications with the police, none of these will be carried.

Since this is the first time that the new field, or, in fact, any part of the new Technology, has been used by the Institute as a whole, the executive board of the senior class deemed it necessary to have a celebration, and so the parade was decided upon. The short distance between the old and new Tech made this the ideal route.

noon as they are very evenly matched. As far as is known from the times that could be obtained, the Freshmen seem to have slight odds. The experience of the Sophomores may prove to be the item that will pull them the victory, or the possibility of the Freshman missing a pass. The second year men have several members of last year's team back, but the loss of other good men, including O'Hara, who is recognized as the fastest man in school in the 220, will be keenly felt. The result of the race will hang upon the flag passing of the two teams and the experience of the Sophomores in part of the work may overcome the slight time handicap.

In the tug-of-war, the Sophomores are generally conceded the victory. Their team is somewhat heavier than the Freshmen and they have an experienced man at anchor, while the first year men have not had the experience of a real contest besides having a rather light man at anchor.

M. B. Dalton, the senior president, has general charge of the arrangements and is assisted by the executive board as a committee; J. A. Tobey, official cheer leader of the Institute, will act as marshall. He is to be assisted by F. P. Scully, A. H. Waitt, F. C. Foote and C. A. Blodgett, as well as the cheer leaders of the respective classes. Thomas and Morse are the standard bearers. The marchers are advised to purchase admission tickets to the field in advance, in order to avoid delay at the gate, and to lighten the labors of the ticket sellers there.

It is hoped that the largest crowd which ever attended a field day will attend this one, and that every man who does go (alone, at least), will take part in the parade and add his mite to the dedication of the field of the new Technology.
